FALSE ALARM

"It's itchy! It's scratchy!" screamed little Paddy Panda. "I can't stand it! Take it off me!"

Paddy's mother laughed, "But Paddy! This is just a perfectly ordinary cotton shirt I'm putting on you. Why all the big fuss?"

But the little panda bear just screamed all the more. "Itchy! Scratchy! Don't like it! Take it off me!"

"Paddy Panda," his mother said, not laughing now, not even smiling. "Stop that silly fuss this instant. Hold still now and let me put on this shirt."

"NO! NO! NO!" Paddy hollered.

"Yes!" said his mother. She grabbed his paws and forced them into the sleeves.

Once the shirt was on, Paddy seemed to forget all about how itchy he'd thought it would be! He ran off to play marbles with his pal, Skippy Squirrel. His mother looked after him and shook her head. Sometimes she couldn't figure out her little son at all!

That night she was helping Paddy get into his pajamas at bedtime, when the fuss began again, "Oh it's itchy!" he started to squeal. "Oh, I can't stand it. Take it—"

"Stop the fuss right this second!" his mother interrupted him. "Listen here, Mr. Paddy Panda, if this pair of flannel pajamas is even one teensy bit scratchy, then so's whipped cream scratchy! And so's a moss bank scratchy! And so's a rose petal scratchy! And so's chocolate pudding scratchy!"

The idea of a pudding being scratchy, or a rose petal, made Paddy burst out giggling. While he was busy giggling, his mother quickly got the pajamas onto him before he noticed it. Sure enough, as soon as they were on, he forgot all about how itchy he'd thought they would be. He hopped into bed and smiled, "Read me the story about the Tawny Scrawny Lion, okay, mom?"

Paddy's mother had become so familiar with Paddy's habit of making a fuss for no reason at all, that she wasn't much concerned when, several days later, Paddy ran in from the meadow squealing loudly, "Itchy! Scratchy! I can't stand it! Take it off me!"

His mother sighed. She shook her head. She said, "Now Paddy, what did I tell you about making fusses—"

"TAKE IT OFF!" howled Paddy.

"I most certainly will not take it off you," his mother replied angrily. "That's a perfectly ordinary, nice, soft sweater and without it you would catch a cold on a windy day like this."

"OH, OH, I CAN'T STAND IT, OH OH, OH, OH—"

"Stop it this instant, Paddy. Stop that fuss and go play with Skippy 'til supper time."

But Paddy didn't stop the fuss, and he didn't go play with Skippy. He just kept hanging around the kitchen, whining and squealing and making such an awful fuss that finally his mother decided he had to be punished once and for all. So she grabbed Paddy by the furry scruff of his neck. She lifted him up in front of her. She raised her paw to give him a good spank, when, suddenly, she noticed something. "Oh my!" she said. "Oh my goodness!" She put him down gently. "There's thistles stuck in your sweater, Paddy darling."

He cried, "I told you something was scratching me!"

Gently his mother plunked out the itchy thistles that had bothered him. Then she said, "Have you learned a lesson from this, Paddy? Have you learned that if you take too much you will never be taken seriously?"

He sure had! That night when his mother put his pajamas on, little Paddy Panda made no fuss at all. Not one single peep!

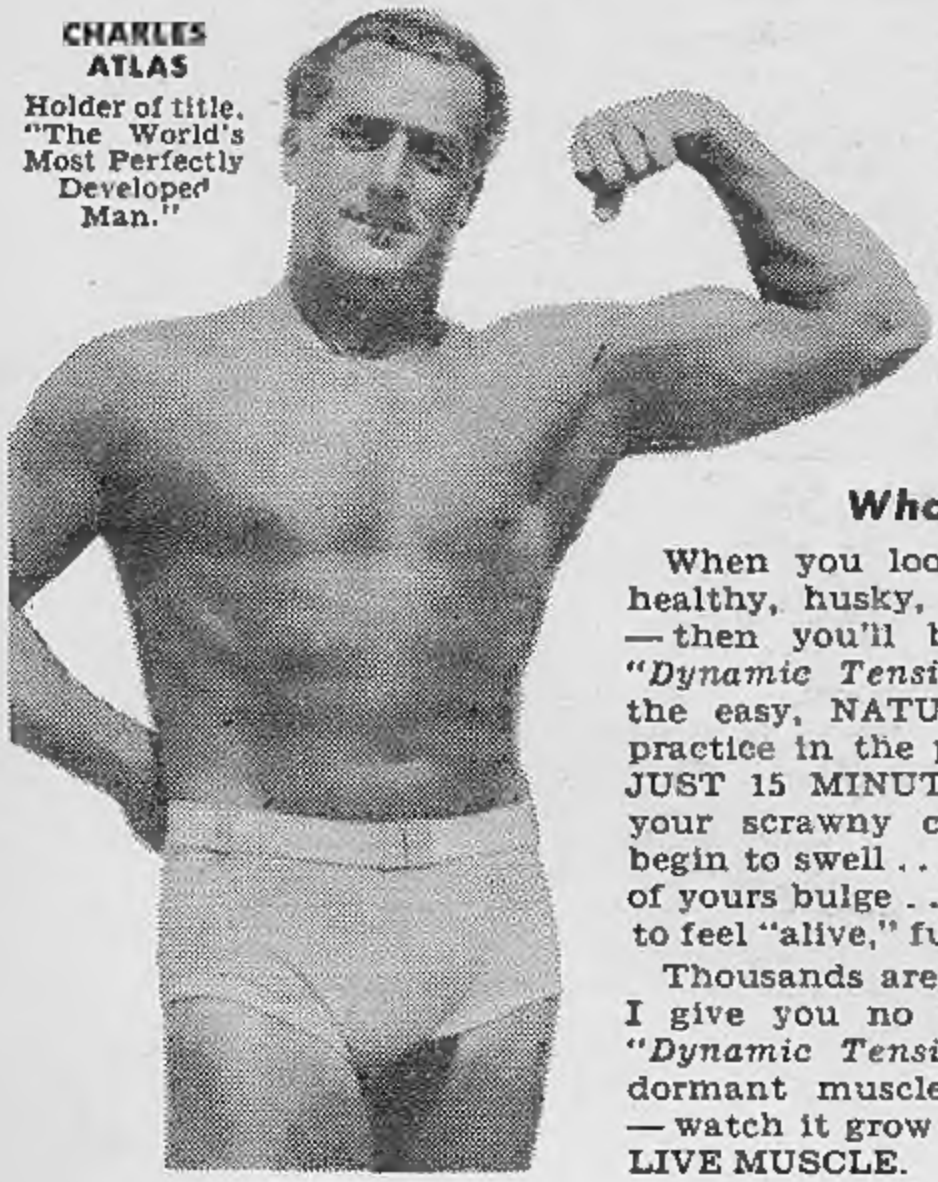
CHARLES ATLAS
Holder of title, "The World's Most Perfectly Developed Man."



PEOPLE used to laugh at my skinny 97-pound body. I was ashamed to strip for sports or for a swim. Girls made fun of me behind my back. THEN I discovered my body-building system, "Dynamic Tension." It made me such a complete specimen of manhood that I hold the title, "The World's Most Perfectly Developed Man."

What's My Secret?

When you look in the mirror and see a healthy, husky, fellow smiling back at you — then you'll be astonished at how fast "Dynamic Tension" GETS RESULTS! It is the easy, NATURAL method and you can practice in the privacy of your own room — JUST 15 MINUTES EACH DAY. Just watch your scrawny chest and shoulder muscles begin to swell . . . those spindly arms and legs of yours bulge . . . and your whole body starts to feel "alive," full of zip and go!

Thousands are becoming husky — my way. I give you no gadgets to fool with. With "Dynamic Tension" you simply utilize the dormant muscle-power in your own body — watch it grow and multiply into real, solid LIVE MUSCLE.
